RE: Business Relationship

Dear Nick:

Thank you for the fine job you did in helping us upgrade our document technology. Your cost analysis was eye opening! Based on our results so far we have experienced a sizable savings. In addition, the office is more productive. They are excited about how much faster and simpler they can get things done. In terms of training and support, the transition was much easier than I anticipated. Your business insight and thorough review of our system puts us in a great position to weather this economic storm.

Sincerely,

Ryan Stewart
President
