Introducing GREENGUARD
Indoor Air Quality Certified Seating

In response to the increasing concern of environmental interiors, Loewenstein is proud to offer a selection of GREENGUARD Certified seating

Being pro-active toward the environment inspired Loewenstein to combine three advanced technologies; electrostatic finish application, the use of ultraviolet finishing materials, and high powered ultraviolet curing; to develop the most modern and efficient finishing system in the industry.

Not only does this process result in vibrant finishes, but it produces low emissions and complies with the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design, or LEED criteria

The emissions of our wood seating products meet the EPA and industry standard acceptable levels for formaldehyde and VOCs. This accomplishment was awarded the Indoor Air Quality Certification.
