Strata CTX100-S

Toshiba Digital Solutions Division

Toshiba's Strata CTX100-S digital business telephone system delivers a robust, turnkey telecommunication system that beats the competitive offerings for the small enterprise because it delivers "big company" features at a size and price that suit smaller companies. Unlike most competitive systems, Strata CTX100-S users have access to the same IP, networking, and voice processing capabilities available in Toshiba's larger solutions.

Strata CTX100-S allows users to mix-and-match the types of telephones on the system, including Toshiba's digital, IP, and analog telephones. This allows the use of IP telephones where it makes sense. Toshiba's IPT1020-SD IP telephones are ideal for remote users, and VoIP between locations allows users to reduce long-distance charges. Strata CTX100-S systems can be networked with other Strata CTX100-S systems or with Toshiba's larger Strata CTX systems, enabling centralized voice mail system and direct extension dialing.
